NSA ConnectED Webinars are designed for tax and accounting professionals to provide a very cost-effective way for them to get the quality, high level, continuing professional education (CPE) necessary to maintain their various credentials – from the comfort of their offices.

Since the presentation of the first NSA ConnectED Webinar in May of 2007 internet-based education programs have evolved into one of the most crucial components of our professional development program at NSA. The interactive element – the ability to give, receive and discuss information – provided through this medium is driving NSA to substantially expand its Webinar program in 2009. In order to meet the ever-increasing demand from professionals providing accounting, tax, and related financial services – it is our goal to offer as many Webinars; from the attached list of –
